FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Cedars Union Hosts Fourth Annual Morning After Brunch in Collaboration with Dallas Art Fair

Dallas, TX – March 25, 2026 – The Cedars Union is pleased to announce the return of its Morning After Brunch on Friday, April 17, 2026, from 9 AM – 1 PM at 1219 S. Ervay Street. Presented in collaboration with the Dallas Art Fair, this signature event offers an exclusive opportunity to experience Dallas’ emerging art scene, featuring artists from the latest iteration of The Cedars Union’s juried 18-month Cohort Program.

Guests are invited to explore working micro-studios, engage directly with artists, and discover newly completed works available for purchase. The event offers a rare, behind-the-scenes look at artistic practices in progress while connecting collectors, curators, and arts professionals with the next generation of talent.

In addition to studio visits, attendees will get a glimpse into The Cedars Union’s continued growth, including updates on its future home and expanded programming.

The Morning After Brunch delivers a dynamic and welcoming experience, complemented by a spread of breakfast tacos, pastries, coffee, and mimosas, with support from local partners. Complimentary valet will be available.

Since its inception, the Morning After Brunch has become a cornerstone of Dallas Art Fair week, fostering meaningful connections between artists and the broader arts community. Past events have led to significant opportunities for participating artists, including acquisitions, exhibitions, and ongoing professional relationships.

Presenting Artists:

Ray Albarez, Alvaro Arroliga, Harrison Blake, Katherine Covarrubias, M-Cat Davis, Maria Esswein, Jordan Funk, Anthony TungNing Huang, Matthew Jones, Felicia Jordan, KevRon Madden, Eliana Miranda, Bao Nghi Ngo, Karla Ramirez-Santin, Anna Redman, Chukwudi Ukonne, José Vázquez Ramírez, and Leigh Ann Williams Hickey.
